

Livescribe+ Privacy Policy

Livescribe, Inc. (Livescribe) uses the information collected from your interaction with the Livescribe+ app solely for the purposes of improving the product. The information will not be provided, sold, licensed, rented, assigned, or disclosed outside the Anoto family of companies, of which Livescribe is a part, except as required by law, nor will we use your phone number to initiate a call or SMS text message to you without your express prior consent. Your wireless carrier and other service providers may also collect data about your internet connectivity usage, and their practices are governed by their own privacy policies.

Livescribe does not collect details regarding the account you use to upload documents nor does it collect the contents of the documents uploaded. We do not log the recorded audio, the written content, or the date and time of the performed operations. The only information we automatically collect relates to the usage of the Livescribe+ app. Livescribe uses this data to analyze application behavior in order to operate, develop, and improve the Livescribe+ product.